

--ABSTRACT

Electrically conductive or static dissipative coating, films, or laminae in a laminate construction suitable for packaging of sensitive electronic components. The electrical conductive or static dissipative properties are achieved by including an effective amount of a quaternary ammonium compound into a base resin.--

09445 0820